

"Here's my nomination for this year's selection of Cheap Eats, a feature which, by the way, I look forward to with great anticipation.

Luxy Bistro:

"Luxy Bistro at 1235 Davie St.

This little bistro is a favorite of my sweetie and I, and we're never disappointed. It's cosy and dimly lit and usually bustling with diners ,but the wait is never more than a few minutes to get a table. Their specialty is pasta with a variety of sauces.

"My present favorite is the fettuccine primavera with a creamy tomato sauce and lots of veggies at $6.95. My sweetie always opts for the smoked salmon linguine, which he says is heaven and this, I believe, comes with garlic bread and caesar salad. With a half-litre of Italian house red, we're two happy campers.

"If that's not enough, let's talk portions. They're really huge, beautifully huge. It would take a lumberjack to eat the whole thing. So we take half of our pasta order home for the next evening, supplement it with a whole-wheat baguette and a bottle of our home-made cabernet sauvignon and, presto, another fabulous meal for two."
